

The Portland Hospital

The Portland Hospital for Women and Children is a private hospital located on Great Portland Street in the West End.

Peter Dann have been involved with The Portland Hospital for Women and Children for over 20 years, working on a range of schemes including input on minor fit-out projects to refurbishments creating additional theatres, medical and ancillary spaces.

The hospital has been the place of birth for notable people and royalty in Britain, and is London's only private hospital dedicated entirely to the needs of women and children.
